Upgrade transportation networks including roads and public transit. The quality of infrastructure can be a large barrier to accessing labour and skills, the lifeblood of the manufacturing sector. As well as this manufacturers more than other make use of road and rail networks for logistical purposes.

Support manufacturers in the region to deliver the jobs of the future through the development of regional skills programmes. These initiatives provide manufacturers with the skills they need and can launch the career of students in a high paying exciting sector.

Invest in smart infrastructure that supports innovation, such as high-speed internet, data-sharing platforms, and technology-friendly workspaces. This creates an environment conducive to the growth of technology-driven manufacturers.

DAWN HUNTROD, MAKE UK REGION DIRECTOR – NORTH

Manufacturing has always had a crucial presence in the economy of York and North Yorkshire and it's vital that the future Mayor continues to build on the region's strength.

Manufacturers in York and North Yorkshire can continue to drive growth through creating well paid, skilled jobs and it is vital that future opportunities provided through the shift to net zero are taken. Building upon this, the Mayor must ensure that the regional infrastructure and skills programmes are improved upon. This, in tandem with greater collaboration between business, education, and government agencies will be essential in encouraging innovation and provide manufacturers with the skills they need to take advantage of emerging industries throughout York and North Yorkshire.

I look forward to working with the Mayor to ensure a successful partnership can be built and that provides a long-term vision with manufacturing continuing to be at the heart of it."

Make UK is backing manufacturing – helping our sector to engineer a digital, global and green future. From the first industrial revolution to the emergence of the fourth, the manufacturing sector has been the UK's economic engine and the world's workshop.

The manufacturers we represent employ 1.2 million people who have created the new technologies of today and are designing the innovations of tomorrow. By investing in their people, they continue to compete on a global stage, providing the solutions to the world's biggest challenges.

Together, manufacturing is changing, adapting and transforming to meet the future needs of the UK economy. A forward-thinking, bold and versatile sector, manufacturers are engineering their own future.
